New developer for Pine Hill Lakes

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

Homeowners from the Pine Hill Lakes development presented the village board with a resolution against Northfield Developers and asked the board to consider excepting the resolution.

The resolution, which was endorsed by 40 Pine Hill Lakes homeowners, called for the village to take possession of Northfield's money covered by the development bond, that the improvement tasks be completed by a given date, that bids are solicited and the builder awards those bids, and that all permits, building and occupancy, be frozen to any developer.

Pine Hills Lakes residents have been complaining about cracking foundations, sinking homes, a lack of street lights, sewer problems, etc.

Village Engineer John Bolt said the last he heard the NBD Bank of Evanston was going to foreclose on Northfield Developing Co. and would honor repair work within the development for eight-12 weeks. However, the bank will not honor warranty related work.

"Last Thursday a representative from the bank said the he was working on the details of the foreclosure and that the bank would have another developer finish the development. The bank is also aware that no building permits will be issued when it takes over the development," said Bolt.

Trustee Don Amundsen commented, "The development must be brought up to date with the new developer before any additional building permits are issued."

One Pine Hill Lakes resident is concerned that a new developer will put all of his money into correcting the subdivision, while having no money left over to build any more new homes. He also said, "We might be digging our own graves here. No one is going to come in and complete the development if they can't get building permits."

Antioch to boom in 90s with expansion

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

The next 10 years may very well be extremely busy for the village of Antioch.

Antioch's small town setting is expected to entice more commercial and residential developments to settle within the village during the 1990s, causing the upscale town to experience a population boom to twice its current size.

"I expect that Antioch will grow like Libertyville, Mundlein and Vernon Hills, but we will have a handle on our growth. We will be able to keep our density down," said Mayor Robert Wilton.

Wilton projected this year's 1990 census will show Antioch as having a population of 6,500-7,000 residents, which compared to the 1980 census figure of 4,400, it suggests the population has almost doubled over the last 10 years.

Since the last census report, Antioch has had 800 housing units pledged, such as Falcan Nest, Heron Harbor and Pine Hill Crest, that has raised the population figure by 2,000-3,000 residents.

The mayor estimates that by the year 2000, Antioch will have about 12,000 residents. "I hope this is not high, because I like the rural atmosphere. I like the way Antioch was in the 1940's, a rural, small, fun town," said Mayor Wilton.

In 1976 the Northeast Planning Commission came out with a 10-year expansion report, which projected the rapid growth of Libertyville, Mundlein and Vernon Hills. The report also estimated the expansion boom would move up through Round Lake Beach, then up to Lake Villa/Lindenhurst and then to Antioch.

Antioch's future expansion boom will grow to the east as far as Deep Lake Rd. to Rte. 45, because the area is wide open with farm land. The expansion can not move to the north due to the state line, and there is limited development space to the west and to the south side of town as well.

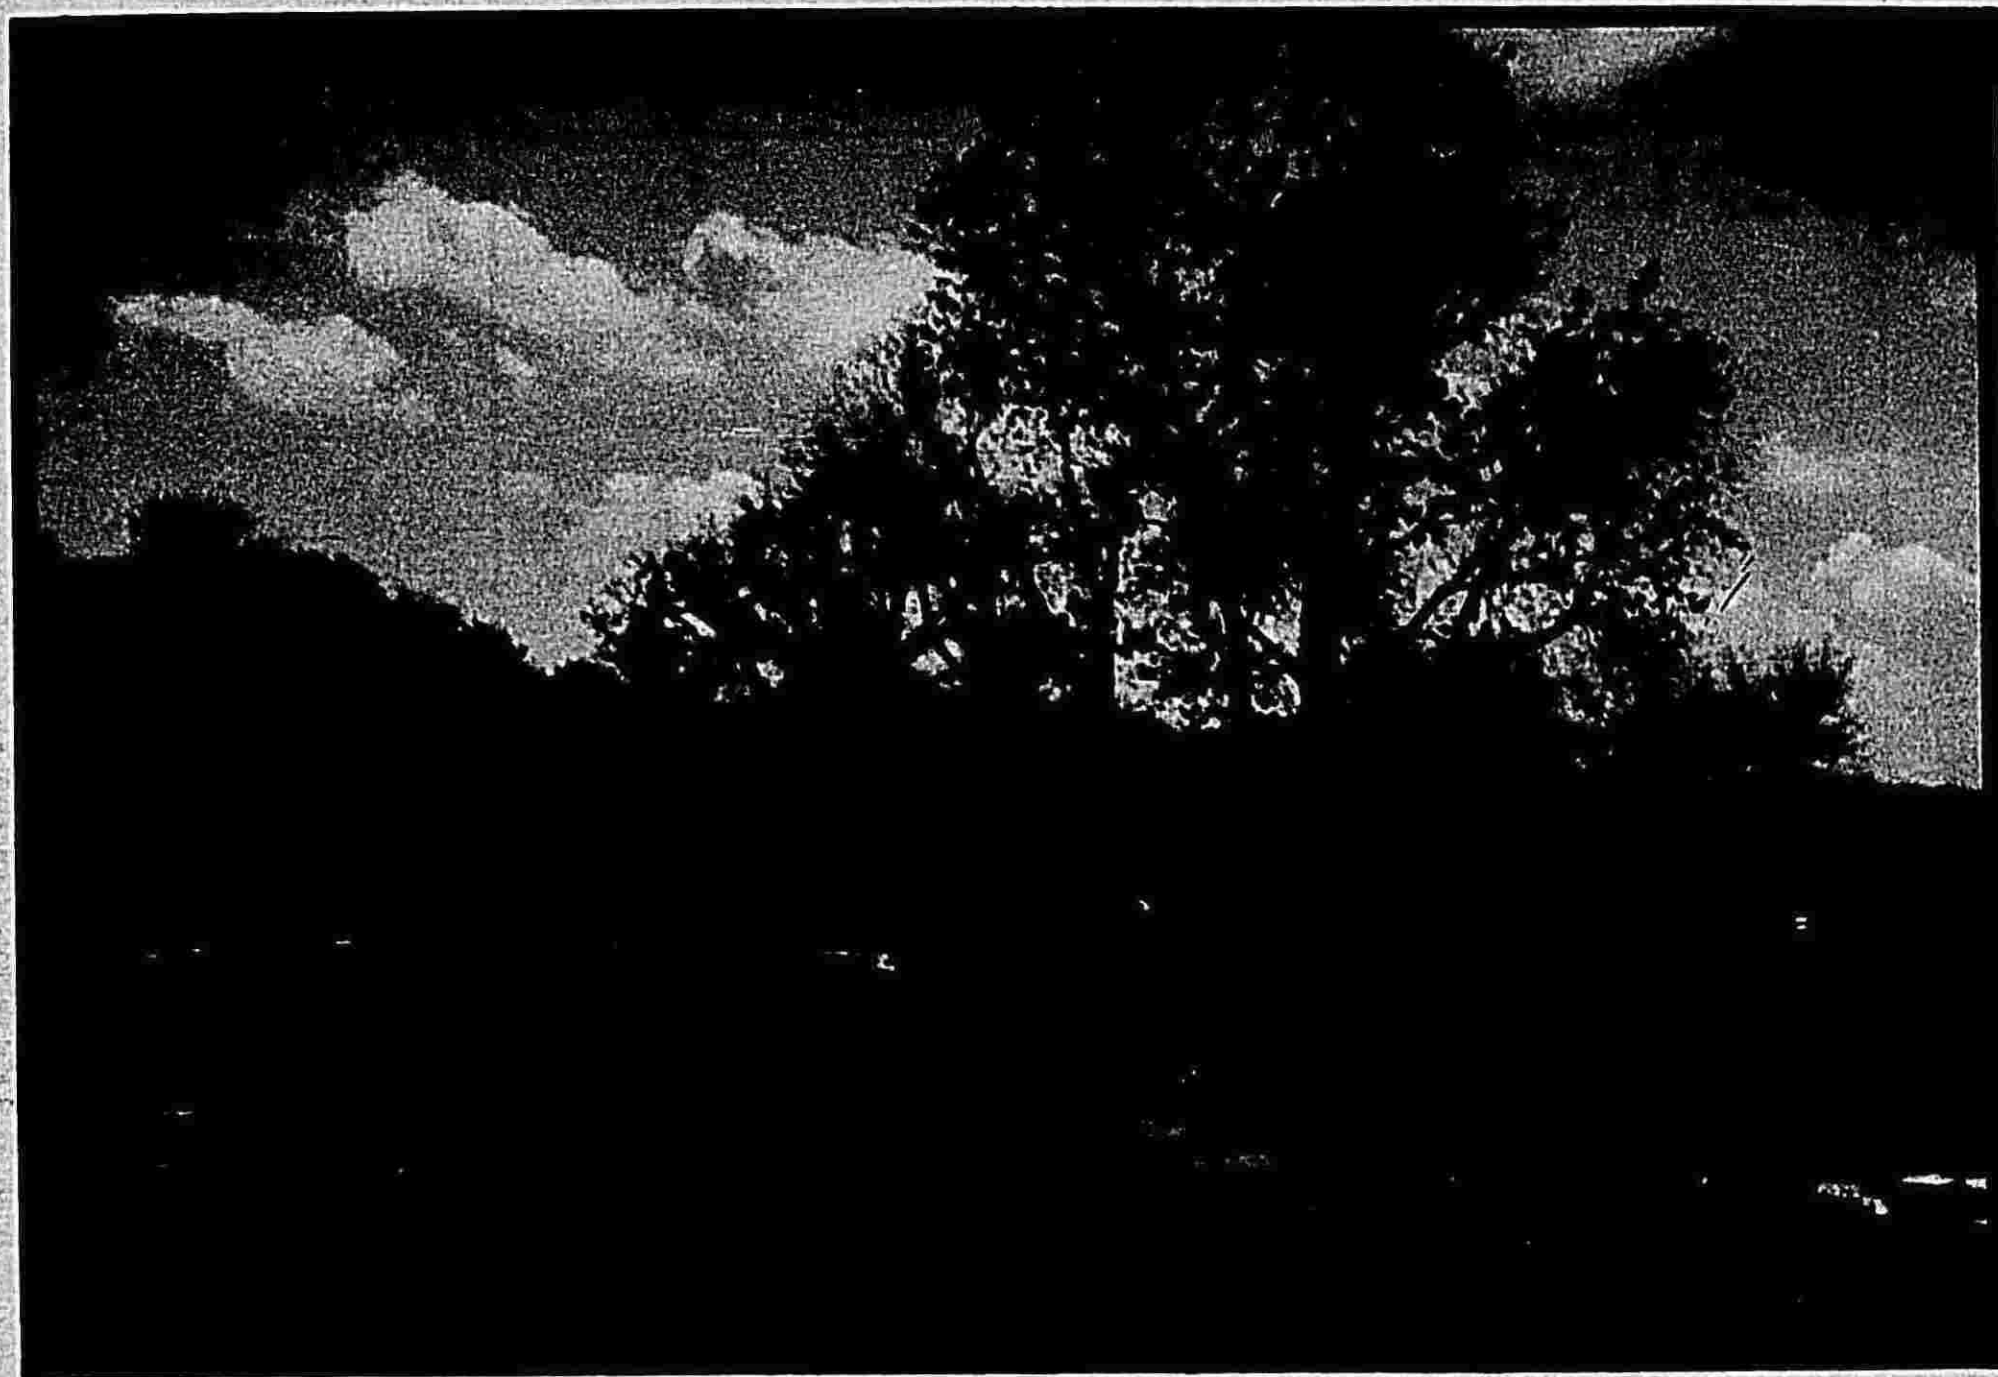

Mayor Wilton explained the expansion would move into Antioch more quickly if there were an accessible route to the tollway from a double lane highway like Rte. 132, which runs from Lake Villa through Lindenhurst to I-94.

The mayor suggested that a possible solution to this problem would be to widen Rtes. 173 and 41, which run towards the tollway. He also said, "If railroad transportation is ever made available it will attract a lot of white collar works who are employed in downtown Chicago to move out this way."

Residents can expect to see more single family homes and condominiums. Excluded from the future expansion plans are apartment complexes. "We are already saturated with apartments. The village is looking for better living conditions for the community," said Mayor Wilton.

Future commercial developments will extend from Rte. 173 to Deep Lake Rd. According to Mayor Wilton, in the very near future Ebb Tide's Waterbed Store will be torn down and Cedar St. will be extended. Also, stoplights will be installed at the intersection of Cedar and Main Sts.

Commercial developments are needed if the housing boom is working its way towards Antioch, because 75 percent of the village's income comes from sales tax revenue.

Summer reflections

As August approaches and rumbles of school bells getting ready to ring are heard in Lake and Kenosha Counties, there are still many beautiful days left to be enjoyed touring, picnicking or just roaming through the area's countryside. Outdoor enthusiasts can appreciate Mother Nature's artistry while the skies are still blue and the warm sun still shines.

Literacy Program strives to aid county residents

by BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers

A mother cannot read a bedtime story to her child. A teenager passes his history class without ever opening the book. A man buying groceries cannot tell tomato soup from chicken.

Lake County is not immune to illiteracy. An estimated 31,000 residents of the county are unable to read or read below the eighth grade level.

"All their lives they've formed a defense mechanism against people finding out that they are illiterate," said Jackie Hamlett, people in the county are based on the numbers of people that have not completed eighth grade.

"I hate to say it that way," she said. "There are people that didn't go to eighth grade that have phenomenal reading skills."

Hamlett said there are several reasons why people, who have managed to get by over the years, finally decided to come in for help. They may be passed by for a promotion, for example, or are laid off and cannot fill out an application for another job.

"I hate to say it that way. There are people that didn't go to eighth grade that have phenomenal reading skills."—Barbara Hall, College of Lake County.

associate of the Lake County Literacy Program (LCLP). "For them to come to us and admit they need help is a very big step. Fear of what people will think of them is probably the biggest thing that keeps them away."

A coalition of organizations concerned with literacy, the program offers classes in adult basic education (literacy), English as a second language, GED (high school equivalency), high school credit courses, and study skills classes. The program currently has between 250-350 students and 300 active tutors.

Barbara Hall, literacy coordinator at the College of Lake County branch of the LCLP, said the estimates of illiterate

"One student worked in a gas station for five years. He memorized 110 different kinds of cigarette packages," Hamlett said. "I know others who would take the bus and figured out which stop to get off at by counting the number of light poles."

Hall said illiteracy is not an indication of lower intelligence. Simply because someone cannot read, she said, does not mean they are intelligently inferior.

"A lot are very bright people that find ways to compensate for not being able to read," said Hall.

Students are taught by carefully-trained volunteers from all over the county. The program requires tutors to attend six 2

1/2-hour sessions at the College of Lake County (CLC) before tutoring begins.

"They all have one thing in common—they really want to help someone learn to read," said Hamlett.

Students can be referred by a friend, relative, teacher, librarian, social worker or an employer. After that, individualized assessment of a person's skills is performed before tutoring or classes begin.

Money for the program is provided by the Secretary of State's Libraries for Literacy program and Illinois State Board of Education for the CLC branch. This year the Lake County literacy budget as a whole is $90,000.

County plans hearing for horses on bike/walk trail

The Public Service Committee of the Lake County Board will conduct a public hearing on the possibility of allowing horses on a county-owned bicycle and walking trail.

Bill Barron, assistant Lake County administrator, said numerous horse riders have contacted the public service committee requesting horses be allowed on the North Shore Right-of-Way trail.

"Since we have only heard from these horse folks, we felt it would be only appropriate to ask for feedback from the people living around or near the trail," Barron said.

The trail, which is in its second year of construction, runs the length of Lake County and is open from the Wisconsin border to Grand Ave. The trail will run all the way to Lake Bluff when completed.

The Lake County Highway Dept. is responsible for the construction, maintenance and upkeep of the trail, including clean-up after the horses, if passed.

The hearing will be on Aug. 23 at 7 p.m. at the Lake County Building in Waukegan and so far, only one person has requested to speak at the hearing, according to Barron.

Barron added the committee is asking the municipalities through which the trail runs to help with the upkeep.

Anyone interested in being heard at the hearing should contact the county administrator's office at (708) 360-6603 to schedule a presentation or submit written comment if unable to attend the meeting.

Village Board accepts Chief Miller's settlement

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Village Board accepted Police Chief Charles Miller's suit settlement by a 4-2 vote at Monday night's board meeting.

The agreed upon settlement will let the village records show that Miller is the lawfully appointed police chief and the action taken by Trustees Ed Koziorowski, Larry Hanson and Mayor Robert Wilton June 25, seeking to remove Miller from his throne, was taken without a quorum.

Also, the personnel records of the village will reflect Miller as having served as police chief continuously from May 1, 1978 to present.

Miller will continue to hold his position within the village until he resigns or is terminated from the position by a majority vote of the village board. He will conduct his duties as police chief without any interference from the board.

The board will pay a monetary settlement of $2,500 and reimburse Miller for his attorney fee, which at this time is $231.

Mayor Wilton and Trustee Hanson declined the acceptance of the settlement due to the "loose wording" of paragraph four of the agreement which states, "The defendants are permanently enjoined from interfering with the plaintiff's right to execute the duties of the position of chief of police of the Village of Antioch."

Both Wilton and Hanson are concerned that Miller will be able to whatever he wants because the agreement does not specifically spell out the duties of the police chief.

Even Village Atty. Kenneth Clark advised the board that some language is needed in the agreement to define the police chief's duties.

Trustee Hanson said, "I just didn't accept the settlement because of the loose wording in paragraph four."

Hanson wanted the agreement reworded to state the chief will assume his duties he had prior to the June 25 board meeting.

"The way this is worded, he can do anything he wants and we can't touch him. He should have no more or no less duties prior to his removal as police chief," said Mayor Wilton.

Trustee Koziorowski didn't want to waste anymore of the taxpayers' dollars in attorney fees, so he motioned for the board to except the agreement.

Mayor Wilton said the board had the village's best interest in mind when it excepted the settlement agreement. "After researching the case my attorney advised

Looks for principal

Lake Villa School Dist. 41 is currently accepting applications for the position of principal of B.J. Hooper School in Lindenhurst. Former Principal Matt Taber resigned last week to accept the position as superintendent of Emmets Grade School Dist. The board hopes to have Taber's replacement by the second week of August. Call the administrative office (708) 356-2385 for information.

The Lake Villa School Dist. 41 budget has been approved for the 1990-1991 school year. Approximately $5.9 million will be divided between the three district schools, Pleviak, Intermediate, and B.J. Hooper.

Board of Education of Antioch Community High School Dist. 117 has approved the employment of Karen Day to replace Ann Dachniwsky, who recently resigned as a science teacher. Day had previously taught in Ohio and is a 1982 graduate of Winona State University. The board also approved the hiring of Clarence Williams, formerly employed by S.E.D.O.L., to serve as dean and chairman of the Special Education Dept.

Student Lunches

Antioch Community High School Dist. 117 will raise the price of student lunches from $1.30 to $1.40 for the 1990-91 school year. This increase is to cover the rising costs of food and food preparation.

Registration dates are as follows: freshman-Tues., Aug. 21 from 8 a.m.-3:30 p.m., sophomores-Wed., Aug. 22 from 8 a.m.-12:15 p.m., juniors-Thurs., Aug. 23 from 8-11:45 a.m. and seniors-Fri., Aug. 24 from 8-11:15 a.m.

Promotion

Kathy Majerowicz of Antioch, who joined the State Bank of Antioch in 1981, has been promoted to assistant vice president of the installment lending department. She has been instrumental in the growth of the bank's consumer loan department. She is a graduate of Round Lake High School as well as of Albion College in Michigan. She has taken several courses through the American Institute of Banking and is a graduate of the American Bankers Assn. National Consumer School.

High school enrollment drops to an all time low

Antioch Community High School District 117 will have an enrollment of approximately 1600 students for the 1990-91 school year, the lowest enrollment in the past 10 years.

According to the report conducted by Director of Pupil Personnel Pete Pekkarinen, the low enrollment is being seen nation wide, because the high schools have the four lowest birth rate years now in attendance.

Superintendent of District 117 Gary Allen said enrollment is expected to increase the next school year as this year's seniors are replaced with the incoming freshman.

Tom Baba, director of education said enrollment will skyrocket over the next couple of years due to the birth rate boom and the housing boom of the area.

Feeder schools supply high schools will their enrollment figure. High schools know how many children are currently in attendance in elementary schools and how many students will transfer into high schools the next school term. The feeder schools base their enrollment figures on the live birth ratio, which estimates the number of births in Lake County within a year.

Dist. 41, 117 officials eyeing future expansion

by BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers

Although it was just a suggestion, Lake Villa School Dist. 41 officials still agreed they would like to rent space from Antioch Comm. High School if that school board decides to construct a new school building.

"Antioch was looking to see if any of the schools were interested in renting classroom space if they decide to build a new building," said Dist. 41 Supt. Peter Palombi. "I don't know that they'll do it at all."

Antioch school board officials have been looking into relieving its bulging building. Suggestions range from re-drawing the boundary lines and sending more Lindenhurst students to Grayslake, to building an entire new high school facility. That, said Palombi, was where the suggestion to rent space came from.

"If we were to build a new building we would have to find a use for this one," said Antioch School Dist. 117 Supt. Gary Allen.

Dist. 41, which includes Intermediate and Pleviak schools in Lake Villa and B.J. Hooper school in Lindenhurst, has been expanding rapidly as well due to increasing growth in the area.

"We discussed it and this was one of the alternatives we came up with," Palombi said.

Dist. 117 recently had a 25-member citizens advisory group look into expansion possibilities. The number one suggestion on the advisory group's list was to expand the current four-year building, possibly on the north side near the gym or the west side, tearing down a portion of the old building and expanding the building potential in that area.

Enrollment at Antioch Comm. High School has remained around the 1,700 mark for the past 10 years, but Allen said that trend is about to change.

"This upcoming senior class is one of the smallest classes we've ever had," said Allen. "And next year they'll be replaced with a larger one." He said low enrollments are common now across the country, but the next few years will see a rapid increase in enrollment.

"It will depend on how much growth there is in the area," said Allen.

Dist. 117 hopes to make a decision on expansion no later than this fall.

Lions Club gala Aug. 5

After months of planning work, Antioch Lions Club members are again ready to entertain the public at their annual Chicken Bar-B-Que Picnic and Auction, Sunday, Aug. beginning at 11 a.m. until 6 p.m.

All events will be held at the Antioch Aqua Center and Lions Club Pavilion located in Williams Park, N. Main St., Antioch. Dinner tickets ($5 donation) are available from Lions members, First National Bank of Antioch, State Bank of Antioch, Great American Federal Savings and Loan, and Bank of Waukegan, Antioch facility.

Antioch residents are known for their gracious hospitality and know-how at seeing to it that special events are top-rated by visitors. They have played host to millions of tourists for more than a century, and this event has come to be regarded as one of the top festival type attractions in the entire bi-state region.

Events of the day include lots of fun for the kids featuring games, races and prizes. Games are scheduled to begin at noon with six age brackets including young adults. Special attractions include Miss Antioch.

The big auction starts at 1 p.m. and is conducted by widely known auctioneer Herman Behm. All auction proceeds are donated to the top-flight Antioch Rescue Squad. Wisconsin Dells have come 'a long way baby'

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380
Vacation Time

Throughout our dating years in high school, and continuing during the early years of our marriage, my husband and I vacationed in the Wisconsin Dells area. During the '50s and '60s the Dells consisted of such amusements as Deer Park, Fort Dells, The Army Ducks, go-karting, tall metal water slides, etc. At that time one of the most unique eating places was Paul Bunyan's Lumber Jack Restaurant.

This summer, we decided to once again partake in what the Dells has to offer. To say—"The Dells has come a long way baby" would be an understatement. The Dells in the '90s consists of gorgeous motels and campgrounds everywhere. Restaurants are abundant with a variety of menus to satisfy anyone's taste buds.

Deer Park is still there, while Fort Dells has been expanded and renamed. Your basic figure eight go-kart tracks have been replaced with courses featuring many over passes, under passes, hairpin curves, and hills. If you prefer to live on the wild side, try keeping your go-kart from spinning out at the slippery "Slick Track!"

The old fashioned metal

water slides have been replaced by fiberglass and cement slides that twist and wind in many directions, and amusement rides are in abundance everywhere. If you would like a relaxing boat ride, you can tour the upper and lower Dells from a huge house boat or take a rougher ride on land and sea on the world famous army ducks.

The beautiful waterfalls, fountains, and mountainous landscaping at the various pee wee golf courses is breath taking. Tommy Bartlett presents three water shows daily, and if winning money is your bag, you can spend more time at the new Greyhound dog racing track.

I understand that my family and I are not alone in our desire to take in the sights of the Dells. A "little birdie" tells me that the following Antioch area families took advantage of all the fun activities of the Dells: Brausma, Centanno, Chinn, Clarke, Fechtner, Fuller, Groh, Hansen, Harris, Henning, Hiller, Milowski, Olenick, Seputis, Stall, Stann, and Utinans.

My informant told me everyone returned with one thing in common, so much to see and do at the Dells and not enough money or time to take it all in! The attractions I mentioned her are only the tip of the iceberg. If you want a fun-filled vacation, save your pennies, and in just three hours you too can be in the Wisconsin Dells!

Bridge Tower

Oh how I love those garage sales. Besides finding a lot of bargains it gives me an opportunity to run into a lot of nice people. Recently I met up the Diane Nemec, an acquaintance from the article will give me a call including more information on the tower. I in turn will naturally share that information with you. Thanks for the tidbit, Diane, and you do not have to wait until you see me to get an item in the column. Call me any time.

Baby Makes Four

Frank and Debbie Deates are proud parents once

Cardis, Ray Brausam, Ted Gavlin, Don and Judy Fechtner, Paul Kitto, and Linda Boerman. Hope I didn't leave anyone out. It was nice seeing you all there and I am sure Dr. Bill appreciated the opportunity to meet all of you.

Broken Toe Epidemic

It seems there was another broken toe mishap in the Grass Lake Area of Antioch. I wrote about Cindy Marquart's toe meeting its doom by a salt block. I just learned that Cindy is not the only one hobbling around town these days. She has been joined by Cathy Morenz who broke her toe during a stumble on the way to retrieve her boat. Naturally Cathy knew where to get a set of used crutches at the right price. Where you ask? From Cindy of course who is back to normal. Well, almost normal, if you call keeping a telephone book in your freezer normal. I've heard of cold cash, but numbers are usually referred to as "Hot!" Maybe that is why Cindy decided to cool them off in the freezer.

Open To Everyone

Here I go again begging for a wide variety of phone calls. I was recently asked if you had to live in the Grass Lake area in order to get an item in this column. To that I say "absolutely not!" "Hometown Goodies" is open to everyone living in or near the town of Antioch. For that matter, I've made a mention of people in Chicago, Las Vegas, Georgia, and Florida. I truly welcome and enjoy hearing from people. So if you'd like a special birthday, anniversary, or get-well wish extended, "Hometown Goodies" is the medium to utilize.

If you are in charge of a special event, call me and I'll plug the particulars. If your children are involved in sports, share the highlights of the games right here in your "Hometown" paper. You name it, I'll write about it. Last but not least, if you've caught someone committing a blooper, let's razz him/her via the column. All you have to do to participate in "Hometown Goodies" is to dial the above number and remember to "Ask for The Lizard!"

Scheduled Meeting

Betty Klehm will be the speaker at the Aug. 2 meeting of the Antioch Chapter of the Women's Aglow Fellowship. The meeting will be held in the Antioch State Bank's Community Room at 7:30 p.m.

Appointed

Raymond Scarpelli, president of Raymond Chevrolet-Olds-Geo, Inc., located at 120 Rte. 173, Antioch, has been elected to serve as director of the Chicago Automobile Trade Assn. (CATA), whose membership includes 750 franchised new car dealers and automotive affiliated members in the eight-county Chicagoland market. Scarpelli is active in community affairs with the Antioch Lions Club, Antioch Rotary and the American Cancer Society. He and his family reside in Antioch.

Hometown Goodies

past. Diane tells me her two daughter, Susan and Melanie (now grown ladies) are both doing fine. Diane also had some interesting information for me to pass on to all of you.

As you have noticed the work on the Grass Lake Bridge is nearly finished with both lanes open to traffic. On the southeast side of the bridge, you may have noticed that interesting tall metal tower that was installed. Diane tells me she heard it is a weather station of sorts and plans are in the works to install one on all bridges (I think she said in Lake County). Diane didn't know if there was going to be an electronic digital read out on it or what. Maybe somebody reading this again. On Saturday, July 7, little Derrick made his way into this world. Waiting anxiously at home to welcome Derrick into the family was big brother, two-year-old, Frankie. Congratulations to you all from the Lizard and readers.

Special Superintendent

Congratulations are in order for the new superintendent of Grass Lake School. Dr. Ruth Bill came to Grass Lake School from Bridgeview Elementary School where she served as principal to over 400 students. Based on her excellent service and accomplishments as principal at Bridgeview, Dr. Bill was nominated and later selected for the 1990 "Executive Educator 100." This prestigious honor is awarded to only 100 individuals nationwide. Congratulation, Dr. Bill, from all of your new acquaintances at Grass Lake School.

Speaking of Dr. Bill's new acquaintances, the following people were in the audience during the July 16 school board meeting to meet and welcome her to the community: Darlene Olenick, Cindy and Scott Marquart, Robin Gwin, Pam, John, and Johnny

Liquor commission adjusts provision for VFW post

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch's Liquor Commission has provided the village's VFW Post 45 with a solution to its financial problems.

Mayor Robert Wilton and Deputy Commissioner and Village Board Trustee Larry Hanson have agreed to waive the $250 security cost, which the post is required to pay for police security at every social function held in the post's hall, on a case to case basis.

"The prior ruling will stand, but the post will have to petition for each function's charge to be waived. The provision is a safeguard to overlook what the post is doing," said Hanson.

This payment provides the post with two uniform officers at a function to maintain law and order and to prevent another situation from arising like back on May 28, 1989 in which a fight broke out in the parking lot of the post lodge.

If a situation like this were to arise again now that the provision has been adjusted, the burden of the costs for having officers arrive on the scene lay upon the post.

Due to last year's fight, the post had its liquor licence revoked. It was eventually reinstated, but only with the acceptance of certain provisions.

"The $250 security cost is not a penalty. The post is just paying for the officers' hourly rate of security services," said Hanson.

VFW Post 45 had recently asked the village to consider having the provision rewritten or adopt a village ordinance where a minimum could be set before the post would have to pay the $250.

Quarter Master of the VFW Post 45 Dick Burnette stressed that two officers are not always needed at every function. "Sometimes there are functions with only 75 people versus 300 and we still pay $250," said Burnette.

According to Burnette, this provision has put a great financial strain on the post and if the provision wasn't modified the post would be forced to close down its operations.

If this scenario were to happen, the VFW post would no longer be able to help veterans and the hospital, or donate to civic organizations such as the Village of Antioch, police department, the rescue squad, etc.

"We feel our decision, which is based upon the village attorney's advisement, is in the best interest of the village and it will help the post financially. We are letting them tell us what we should do. We are putting the burden on the license holder," said Hanson.

Antioch Waves claim honors at competition

Antioch Waves, sponsored by the State Bank of Antioch, claimed an array of individual honors at the North Central Illinois Swim Conference Novice Championship Meet.

The conference, which featured age group competition in freestyle, backstroke, breaststroke, butterfly, and the individual medley, was hosted by the McHenry Marlins at the Knox Park Pool, in McHenry.

Including Antioch, teams from Cary, Crystal Lake, DeKalb, Fox Point, Fox Trails, McHenry, Plum Grove, and Woodstock participated in the meet. Ribbons were awarded for the top 12 places in each event.

Lisa Ispen, 10 years old, lead the Waves towards victory by claiming first place honors in the 9-10 girls 100 meter individual medley, as well as second in the 50 meter breaststroke and third in the 50 meter butterfly.

Other three time winners in the girls competition included Gina Hoerle, second in 13-14 50 meter breaststroke and freestyle and third in backstroke, and Kristin Poliakov, second in the 15-18 100 meter breaststroke, fourth in backstroke and fifth in freestyle.

The boys three time winners included Michael Roy Barr, third in 13-14 50 meter breaststroke and backstroke and fifth in freestyle, Andy Hunsberger, fourth in 13-14 50 meter breast stroke, seventh in back stroke and tenth in freestyle, and Brian Hribar, second in the 13-14 50 meter breaststroke, fourth in backstroke and sixth freestyle.

Many other Antioch Swim Team members took ribbons in Saturday's competition.

Ice cream specialist

Robert Schmarje of Antioch has been named an official ice cream specialist after successfully graduating from the Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream School. He was honored at a luncheon at the company's international headquarters in Burbank, Cal. Schmarje's store in Antioch is at 442 Orchard St.

Chief Miller

me it would not hold up in court and it would be best for the village to accept the agreement," said Wilton.

Hanson has still another concern, that of the safety commission's responsibilities. "What is our job now? Do we just sit back and do nothing? If we even look into a situation at the police department, we will be accused of being out to get somebody, when we are looking out for the best operation of the village."

The mayor also commented that nothing will change between the board and the police chief.

An investigation on the police department for missing confiscated weapons is still being conducted by the Dept. of Criminal Investigation.

Also pending is the personal suit filed by Chief Miller against Mayor Wilton for his actions at the June 25 board meeting. The mayor is confident that his attorney and Miller's attorney will be able to work out some kind of settlement agreement also.

Pine Hill Lakes

Village trustees agreed to except the resolution with the stipulation that building permits be issued to the new developer only after reasonable improvements have been made within the subdivision.

Bolt will be addressing a letter to the bank stating that if the improvements are not completed by the dates the bank has given, the village will pull the letter of credit.

The letter will be worded in such a way that the village will have the right to pull the letter of credit every time an improvement is not completed in its timeframe. The village would then use the money and employ the work to be done and then bill the bank.

Some residents also were concerned with the bank not doing anything to correct the problems in the Pine Hill Lakes subdivision. Mayor Robert Wilton said, "It is very important for the bank to get developers in there to correct as many problems as they can, because eventually the bank could lose."

According to Village Atty. Kenneth Clark, the bank is not liable if the new developer makes little or no improvements and continues to build new homes. He suggested that residents could file a class action suit against the developer but, "you can't go after a corporation that has no assets."

Even though the corporation has no funds the developer can still be contracted to other developments under a different set of investors, as Northfield is currently doing now with the Crystal Ridge development in Crystal Lake. However, this village is paying very close attention that Northfield complies with all the building codes. This development has only been in Crystal Lake for a year and all that is on the property are three models and one existing home.

Currently, the residents and the village board are working on comprising a committee, which will consist of board members and homeowners, so there is better communication between the village and Pine Hill Lakes residents.

Village declares dam not a factor

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

The Village of Antioch has concluded that the dam at Sequoit Creek is not a contributing factor to the decreasing water level of Loon Lake.

According to Village Engineer John Bolt, there is a 21-foot difference between the dam and Rte. 173. "This makes it physically impossible for the dam to affect the level of Loon Lake," said Village Adm. Tim Wells.

President of the Loon Lake Mgmt. Assoc. John Bambule said, "It's true the dam does not affect the water level. I'm confident about that respect. The dam doesn't affect the height of the water, but does it affect how fast the water runs?"

In the near future, Bambule will be checking with Bolt on whether the raising of the dam would have an effect on the rate of water that flows from Loon Lake into Sequoit Creek by the dam.

If this makes a difference, then Bambule would ask the village to consider raising the dam to help slow down the process of the decreasing water level. "I need to know more about the hydraulics before residents can decide on the next step to take," said Bambule.

The dam was removed when the county experienced the flood of 1987. The dam was blocking the storm waters from flowing into the storm sewer lines on the south side of Antioch.

It was within this year that the water level of Loon Lake was down one foot, half from its normal level, even with all the rainfall. Residents assumed the removal of the dam was,

Lake Villa Days set for Aug. 2-6

The Lake Villa Volunteer Fire Dept. will be hosting its annual Lake Villa Days celebration at Lehmann Park Aug. 2-6. The park is situated on Cedar Ave.

There will be rides, games, Bingo, refreshments and the traditional water fights amongst local businesses and civic organizations. The Firemen's Assn. of Lake, Kenosha and McHenry counties will be having its annual water fights on Saturday.

Trophies will be awarded to first, second, third, fourth and last place winners. This year individual trophies will be awarded to the members of the first place teams.

On Thursday there will be a $125 drawing, Friday a $175 drawing, $300 drawing on Saturday and a $400 drawing on Sunday.

Wyhant Amusement will be there with carnival rides. "We're hoping for a good turnout this year, if the weather is cooperative," said fireman Glenn McCollum.

Lake Villa Days has been in existence for approximately 50 years. The program was organized as a fundraiser for the fire department. Since the fire department consists of volunteers, this affair is their sole means of support.

The proceeds from this events have gone towards purchasing new fire equipment, and this year the fire department will be purchasing a Chasey truck, which the firemen will be constructing themselves.

Village adopts tree ordinance

The village board passed a tree ordinance Monday night, which provides for the preservation and replacement of trees within the Village of Antioch.

It is now public policy of the village, to replace, by replanting, trees that are removed in the course of construction of public improvements in subdivisions or planned unit developments.

The purpose of the ordinance is not to discourage new developments or restrict property owners' rights to their land, but to insure there will be more trees and wildlife habitat after a development is built.

According to the board, mass cuts and fills during construction are responsible for more tree loss in development areas than any other single factor and this ordinance is aimed at curbing this destruction of trees.

An incentive to saving existing trees is that it is usually less expensive to preserve than buy new trees and plant them.

The reasoning behind the adoption of such an ordinance is that trees contribute to the scenic beauty of the village and increase property value, but also prevents damage to the environment by providing oxygen within the environment for human organisms and by preserving wildlife, such as a home for birds.

How roads get built Politically Speaking

Cynics are having a field day what with the machinations going on in high places to get official sanction to construct a four lane super highway through the middle of Lake County to connect with Rte. 53 that ends now at the Lake-Cook county line.

Just as the quarter-century-old highway plan miraculously was resuscitated two years ago by minions in the Illinois Div. of Transportation, the once described "highway to nowhere" since has been going through some magical transformations and today exists in the minds of builders and pushers as a tollway.

Gov. James Thompson pulled the controversial roadway off the front burner in the waning days of the last session of the General Assembly, thereby accomplishing two ends: 1. diffusing a potential campaign hot potato in the November election; 2. positioning the Illinois Tollway Authority "to rescue" the flagging project so strenuously opposed by environmentalists and supported by frustrated motorists who can't figure out why officialdom refuses to do anything about upgrading existing highway corridors to relieve rush hour entanglements and gridlock.

Debate over the beleaguered highway plan at least solved one long-standing question---where the Rte. 53 extension "is going." We now are told Rte. 53 will connect Waukegan on the north with Joliet on the south through a link-up with I-355.

Now that the Rte. 53 extension finally has plopped into the lap of the Tollway Authority, there will be no stopping construction. The Tollway Authority is a power unto itself answerable only to the governor. A few minor legal adjustments are needed in the General Assembly to pave the way for the beginning of construction in 1992. The "beauty" of the tollway plan is that tax money will not be used to build the northern loop of Rte. 53. The cynics were right on the button in calling this one.

Members of the Corridor Planning Council for Central Lake County, representing the 17 municipalities that will be impacted by Rte. 53 construction, were flabbergasted that the highway program had been turned over to the Tollway Authority. Some of Corridor Council members feel they have been double-crossed. Welcome to the real world of how highways are built in the suburbs.

Cynics also are taking a few "I told you so" bows on how IDOT would acquire right-of-way at Rtes. 45 and 120. Eighteen months ago a reader called to tell us that a high roller had acquired acreage in the vicinity of Arbor Vista Subdivision and that the high roller's politically connected son would engineer sale of the land to IDOT for a handsome profit after the high roller had the open farm land annexed to the Village of Grayslake and rezoned for commercial.

The only thing the reader neglected to say was that a state legislator's law firm would represent the high roller and how much profit the high roller would reap. Oh well, you can't be right about everything!

The story on how roads get built in Illinois is an open book. Apparently, only cynics read the book.

Gary LaPaille

Sue Suter

Paul Neal

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

BIG GUN—Democrats are starting to roll in the big guns in advance of the important November election.

For the annual Lake County Democratic Party outing and dinner the state party chairman is coming here all the way from Springfield. Gary J. LaPaille is the keynote speaker for the Friday, Aug. 24, event. Golf will be on the Foss Park Dist. course in North Chicago and dinner will be at the Ramada Inn, Waukegan.

LaPaille's job in Springfield is chief of staff to Illinois House Speaker Michael Madigan. Elected state chairman last year, his program is to elect Democrats and more Democrats to every office from governor to the County Board.

One of the party's goals in Lake County is to make household names out of all Democratic candidates for statewide office on the fall ballot. This begins with Sen. Paul Simon (D-Illinois) and extends to gubernatorial candidate Neil Hartigan, Jim Burns for lieutenant governor, Roland Burris as attorney general, Jerry Cosentino for secretary of state, Patrick Quinn as treasurer and Dawn Clark Netsch for comptroller.

"LaPaille's presence for our event reflects the growing awareness of the Democratic potential in the collar counties," Lake County party Chairman Betty Ann Moore said.

BEAUTY ON BALLOT—Probably the best-looking statewide candidate on the fall election ballot is Republican Sue Suter. The Rockford native is running for state comptroller. Her Democratic opponent is Chicago Sen. Dawn Clark Netsch.

Suter, a striking blond with a ready smile, was in Lincolnshire earlier this month to address the Chamber of Commerce. She made a strong impression.

No wonder! No stranger to public service, she was named by President Ronald Reagan in 1987 as commissioner of the U.S. Rehabilitation Services Administration arm of the U.S. Dept. of Education in Washington.

After nine months she came home at the request of Gov. Jim Thompson to join his cabinet as director of Dept. of Public Aid for Illinois. With a budget of $3.7 billion and nearly 10,000 employees, the department serves more than 1-million residents—10 percent of the state's population.

At the Lincolnshire luncheon Suter's audience was amazed by what they saw. She walks with the aid of braces on her legs and a cane strapped to her left arm. That's the after effect of polio at the age of two in a day when Salk was still working on his miracle vaccine.

Even more amazing is that Suter's husband, Carl, uses a wheelchair. Their son, Josh, 12, is just like the boy next door.

Friends and admirers say Suter has accomplished more in her 39 years than most others do in a lifetime. To them her past accomplishments mean she will be the state's new comptroller come Nov. 7.

RIDING COATTAILS—It was standing room only at a July 20 reception for Lake County Sheriff Clinton Grinnell. It was at the posh Country Squire restaurant in Grayslake. The $25 some 500 people paid for hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar goes into Clint's election kitty.

Not that he needs the money. He is running without competition in November. This being an election year, Grinnell didn't want to seem too aloof.

Some of the statewide candidates hope Grinnell's popularity translates into votes, lots of them. Jim Edgar, the Republican candidate for governor, said at the party he and others hope to "ride the sheriff's coattails to victory in November."

Bob Collins of WGN radio fame was the master of ceremonies. Collins needs no invitation to show up for functions thrown by a Lake County sheriff. This relationship began more than a decade ago when Collins made a remark on his radio program about the sheriff's department in Lake County. Then Sheriff Robert "Mickey" Babcox called. Weeks later the Collins' and Babcox's were dining at the same Highwood restaurant. A friendship was forged that evening.

Before and since the death of Babcox two years ago, Grinnell and Collins have been the best of friends.

UNDERPAID, OVERWORKED?—Some people think Paul Neal is underpaid. Others think he is overworked as evidenced of last spring's bypass heart surgery. So the director of the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency had his salary boosted 9 percent to $59,000 at the July meeting.

The recommendation to do this was made by committee member Richard Welton, mayor of Gurnee, a good friend of Neal when he was mayor of Libertyville for eight years.

Not going along with the crowd were two other mayors—Marilyn Sindles of Mundelein and JoAnn Eckmann of Libertyville.

Sindles said she would be tarred and feathered by employees in her community, who only got a 6 percent increase.

Eckmann, who succeeded Neal as mayor of Libertyville last election, compared his salary to that of 25-year Libertyville Adm. Allen Schertz. The man who served with both Neal, and now, Eckmann got an 8 percent increase.

Neal also gets a car and expenses. Getting a lot less argument was a 15 percent increase for Neal's assistant, Melanie VanHeirsele. She now makes $33,120 per year.

They're sure to earn their paychecks. The agency is in the middle of a massive public works project to bring Lake Michigan water to central Lake County by April 1992.

Pete 'belongs'; his clay feet and statistics

by BILL SCHROEDER

Pardon me, but Thursday, July 19, was NOT baseball's darkest day since the Black Sox scandal during the World War I era. In case you've already forgotten, July 19 was the date Pete Rose got five months in the slammer for income cheating and various other transgressions.

To their credit, most people took Rose's sentencing in stride. Big deal. A cheat gets nailed and he's going to pay for it. Glad to see someone's watching the store. Baseball purists and Pete Rose fans (I'm not sure if they're the same) went into fits of depression that the former Cincinnati great was threatened with forfeiture of his previously sure ticket to immortality in the Hall of Fame.

I had to go to the bathroom after reading the Chicago Tribune headline: "The day baseball struck out---Sentencing of Pete Rose its worst moment since 1919." What a stack of baloney!

Pete Rose played baseball like a jerk and he's lived his life like a jerk. The long-time "Charlie Hustle" turned out to be a hustler. Period. Charging for autographs, scamming Uncle Sam in memorabilia sales and betting his fool head off on anything and everything.

Fans used to marvel at Rose's hustle. Was it genuine? Now we know. Those head-first slides? Once in awhile, maybe, but head-first slides aren't the hallmark of a great baseball player. When used to excess like Pete Rose did, the head-first slide becomes the trademark of a show boater. About the record 4,256 hits. Rose was a puncher and placer. Tons and tons of singles. Staying power. OK, there's nothing wrong with being a singles hitter. Another cagey move by the master of deception. So give the guy credit for native smarts.

This isn't a campaign to keep Pete from achieving immortality. Far from it. The Hall of Fame already is filled with its share of jerks, chasers, boozers, cheaters, wife-beaters, etc., guys who never did anything else good in their lives but one thing---play baseball better than 99.9 percent of the other players. Men with feet of clay.

Make room for one more "immortal."

CLOSING IN---Federal investigators reportedly are closing in on placing the blame in the financial debacle at Libertyville Federal Savings and Loan Assn., one of the failing thrifts taken over by the government. This column has information that the Libertyville Federal mess will cost taxpayers more than $30 million.

READERS CALL---Al Sherwood of Round Lake says check your evergreens for red spiders. They chew the needles and the shrubs turn brown. Easy to get rid of with a garden hose...Barbara Dahl of Ingleside, Lake County home economist, says cold pack boil times have been extended because of food poisoning problems. Get correct times. I didn't know anyone was cold pack canning anymore...Len Laux of Wildwood wonders what ever happened to the state plan to extend Rte. 120 west of Grayslake and around Fox Lake to connect with Rte. 12 at the Wisconsin stateline? Good question.

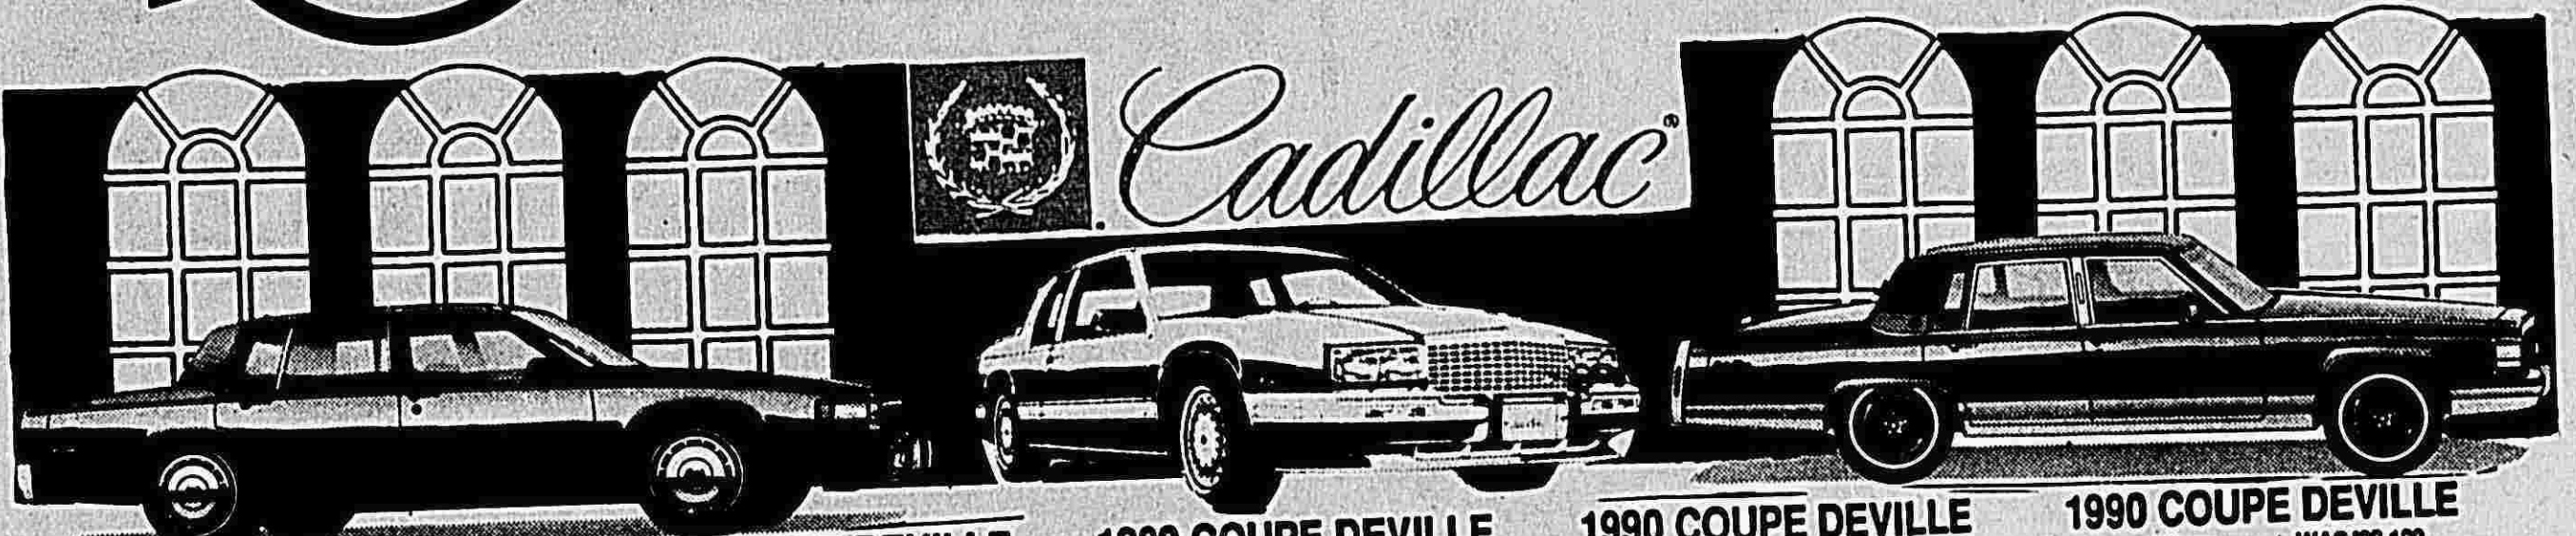

ONE MAN'S FAMILY---One of the delights of summer is fresh cooked rhubarb sauce. Pop cajoled Grandma Schroeder into cooking up a batch and it was delicious. Takes a scandalous amount of sugar. Now pop is on the prowl for fenceline asparagus and wild black raspberries. Now that's a combination for hot weather.

Grieve defines true entrepreneur spirit

by STEPHANIE ENGLE
Lakeland Newspapers

George Price Grieve developed his company from a $1,000 investment into a corporation with $12 million in annual sales that today is well known throughout the heat processing industry.

Grieve said he never dreamed his four pieces of steel metal equipment and rented basement room would blossom into a corporation that serves the world.

"I guess the key was to tend to business. I just kept working hard and it happened," Grieve said.

He also feels his training in college and sensitivity to customers has helped in the tremendous growth.

"I have always believed that you have to answer your customers' questions. This makes them more confident in your company," he explained.

As for his college career, Grieve graduated from Iowa State University in 1934 with a Bachelor of Science degree in agricultural engineering.

"When I got out of college and after my time in World War II, I searched for a job in the engineering field because that is what I was trained in," he said.

However, he had a hard time finding a job that he said satisfied him, so he searched the newspapers for a job in his field. That is when he decided to buy his first pieces of equipment for only $1,000. Then, one day a customer asked Grieve to make him an oven, and fast.

"I had to finish the oven over one weekend, but I did it. As a matter of fact, we still manufacture that model today," Grieve explained.

Grieve then decided to manufacture anything and everything he could make with his few pieces of sheet metal machinery. This led to television and wire recorder products, which he advertised and sold to such companies as Motorola, Admiral, Webster Chicago and Zenith.

As business continued to grow, Grieve moved the location of his factory numerous times before settling in Round Lake.

Grieve said he chose the Round Lake area because he wanted to get as far away from the city without leaving a 50 mile radius so he could keep freight costs down.

"When I was searching for a site, I stopped at Molitor's gas station in Round Lake and Jerry Molitor told me to speak with Rudy Magna, who owned a large amount of land in the area. I purchased approximately six acres from Rudy in 1949," Grieve said.

This six-acre site today boasts of a 115,000 square foot facility which houses corporate headquarters, sales, engineering, research and manufacturing. Also, the Grieve Corporation has 42 exclusive sales representatives in the United States and Canada and Grieve distributors in Taiwan, South Korea, Nigeria, Israel and numerous other countries.

Today, Grieve manufactures standard and custom ovens that are used in almost every industrial factory to do such things as bake paint and soften plastics. Some of the ovens reach a temperature of 2400 degrees Fahrenheit. Also, every aspect of manufacturing the ovens, from producing raw sheets of metal to building control panels, is done on location.

"We also test and operate every oven before shipping it so we can adjust and calibrate it before it leaves the factory," Grieve explained.

Although the corporation has expanded and changed since 1949, Grieve's goal remains the same - to create a line of industrial heat processing equipment customers can believe in.

This year, Grieve was recognized for his dedication and superior engineering with the PACE award from Iowa State University. He received the award for his professional competence and creativity in the field of engineering.

Although Grieve, a true entrepreneur, is 78 years old, he says he has no plans to retire from his baby, his widely acclaimed corporation.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

How would you like to invest in home mortgages guaranteed by the U.S. government? Such are Ginnie Maes, which offer one of the highest government yields and provide safety, cash flow and marketability.

Your Ginnie Mae represents a share in a pool of government-guaranteed mortgages. In other words, you are a lender of mortgage money. Repayment of this 'loan' is guaranteed by the Government National Mortgage Association, or 'Ginnie Mae.' Its guarantee is one of the strongest of any investment today.

Ginnie Maes work much like home mortgages. The monthly check you receive is part interest and part return of principal. If one of the mortgages in the pool is paid early, your share of that principal comes back to you.

Unlike a regular bond, which may mature in as many as 30 years, a Ginnie Mae returns part of your initial investment each month. The 'average life' of a Ginnie Mae pool is 12 years.

Government securities aren't for everyone. But, if you like attractive interest with a government guarantee, get to know Ginnie Mae.

New product to debut at fair

The Doggie Doorbell™ Toilet Training Aid for Pets will be introduced at the Lake County Fair. It is a new product which simplifies house breaking and adds a touch of class to the outdoor toileting/exercise ritual. Although developed to help train puppies, the product makes a nice gift for the older dog and master who thought they had everything.

Using principles of operant learning and conditioning, the dog is trained to ring sleigh bells and to associate ringing the bells with causing the door to be opened. As soon as the association is learned, the dog will approach the door and ring the bells when he needs to go out. Training takes less than a minute during each regular outdoor trip. Although initially trained to use a paw, most dogs casually brush the bells as they walk by or give the bells a nudge with the nose.

The Doggie Doorbell™ Toilet Training Aid for Pets is made of brown leather with a special scratch-resistant finish. Four large nickel-plated stainless steel sleigh bells are attached to the leather "pine tree." A pear-shaped hole in the top of the "tree" slips easily over a door knob. The product has had patent pending status since August, 1989 and is manufactured and distributed by Roberta K. Frush Enterprises, 341 Chestnut Circle, Winthrop Harbor, IL 60096. The introductory retail price is $24.95.

The Doggie Doorbell™ Toilet Training Aid for Pets was invented in 1988 by a black Labrador puppy named "Samantha." When Sam wanted to go out, she rattled metal blinds near the door. Instead of blinds, Sam was trained to ring bells by "grandmother" Roberts, a psychologist with a background in learning theory and animal behavior. Sasha, a Chesapeake Retriever, joined the family in 1989 and is also an ardent bell ringer. Other members of the family include Roberta's husband, Harold, and daughters, Alice (Sam's owner), who is a college student, and Amy, who is a high school sophomore.

Strictly for Seniors

Seniors will enjoy Lakeland's fall foliage tour

by DENNIS and MARY O'BRIEN

The Lakeland Newspapers fall tour was chosen with seniors in mind. During the four days of the tour, you'll journey into some of North America's loveliest landscape and you'll see it in blazing autumn colors. There'll be opportunities to use easy hiking trails in Michigan's Upper Peninsula and Ontario's spectacular Agawa Canyon. The view through picture windows of the motorcoach and passenger cars of the Algoma Central Railway are pretty spectacular, too—and as the train wends its way northward, you won't miss a thing while you enjoy a delicious on board breakfast.

Of course the best way to view the famous Soo Locks of the St. Mary River is to actually "lock through" them. That's part of the tour also. The trip includes a two-hour narrated cruise past the extraordinary International Bridge and through the locks, a bustling hub of commerce where thousands of ships pass every season.

Your personable tour director will be with the tour at all times to handle introductions and answer questions. All the arrangements are made for you and you'll never even have to worry about your luggage!

Healthy snacks for all generations

Grandparents today have found alternatives to giving candy to their grandchildren. Candy is on the list of taboo foods for kids, along with traditional cakes and cookies. Studies have indicated that children consume too much fat and that high cholesterol is a problem even for pre-teens. So what is a grandparent to do?

Offer your grandchildren fun foods. Reward them with a nibble that is also a learning experience for them, and perhaps for grandma and grandpa as well.

Kiwi fruit, an emerald green fruit with its fun-to-feel fuzzy brown skin and tiny black interior freckles (seeds) that are soft but a bit crunchy makes great eating for kids.

Bowls of seeds and nuts, preferably in their pods, and unsalted, can also be a part of good snacking and grandparenting. More than just peanuts in their shells, there can be almonds, walnuts, hazel nuts, Brazil nuts and macadamias.

How, when to choose a retirement community

"How and When to Choose a Retirement Community" is a question often asked by seniors and their families. With over 50 retirement communities in the Chicago and suburban areas, the selection process can seem some-what confusing. There are simpler ways to make the selection and knowing the questions to ask is one of the first steps. There are many different kinds of retirement centers available and each one has it's own personality. It is important to know the needs of the senior, both physical and financial, as well as his or her choice of lifestyle. One needs to weed out the centers that cannot meet the needs of the senior and this can be done without making endless trips to centers.

There is a service available to help seniors and their families to choose wisely, as well as additional services to assist with the move and transition. This is important to take the burden off the senior and his or her family, in order to move into a new "carefree" and secure environment.

Retirement Relocation Planning, Ltd. is located at 213 Institute Pl., Suite 305, Chicago, IL 60610. Call (312)664-6672 for further information.

Art in merchandising

The Millbrook, a luxury residence in Hunt Club Farm's Monet Collection of Homes in Wadsworth, is turned into a fine art gallery displaying works of artists from the Lake County area. The value of art work shown is over $80,000. The plan is for a revolving art display until all homes in the Monet Collection are sold.

Fine art display is set-up in Hunt Club model home

Hunt Club Farms in north suburban Wadsworth transforms a luxury lake front residence, the Millbrook, into a fine art gallery, using specially selected art collections as the developer's new approach to marketing.

"We are showing more than 100 works of art valued at $82,500 to herald Hunt Club Farm's Monet Collection of homes which debuts later this summer," said developer Gerald Fogelson. "From now until we've sold our last home, there will be a revolving collection of fine art in at least one of our new homes."

"We worked closely with our local art consultant, the Millburn Gallery in Millburn, selecting from a broad range of sculptures, paintings and ceramics that would enhance each room in the Millbrook," said Mary Nigro, sales representative for Eve B. Lee & Associates, exclusive broker for Hunt Club Farms. "We've presenting some of the best work from the gallery's artists, most of whom live in the Lake County area, but exhibit their work throughout the country and in Europe."

While the fine-art approach to merchandising model homes is new, the art work was carefully selected to coordinate with each room's function and interior architecture as much as furnishings were used by marketers in the past, according to Nigro.

"For example, the Millbrook library's oak panels are hung with a series of watercolors created especially for the room, while book shelves display another artist's pottery and in the bay window stands a stone sculpture," said Nigro.

"Another example is the Millbrook kitchen, featuring utilitarian pieces like Rosemary Leslie's hand-turned ceramic pottery colanders, pitcher, candle holders and a stoneware punch bowl with matching cups," said Nigro. "We imagined one second-floor bedroom's art to reflect a teenage boy's interest and another that of his younger sister."

"The boy's room features an air-brushed sports car piece and a contemporary portrait of a young man, while the girl's room displays a pastel of a ballet dancer and an oil of a doll collection."

"This exhibit has been a great benefit to our gallery, expanding visitor's awareness of our services," said Dawn Revenaugh, director of the Millburn Gallery. "We often consult with new homeowners about selecting works that fit their home and personality."

Pieces on display at the Millbrook are for sale, ranging in price from $65 to $3,500. Overlooking 58 acres of open space, the five-bedroom Millbrook is built on two landscaped acres and is priced at $925,000.

For directions on how to reach this fine art exhibition at Hunt Club Farms, stop at the Visitor's Center, located in Wadsworth on Stearns School Rd., one-fourth mile west of Hunt Club Rd. Open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Call (708) 356-0120.

CLC exhibits photos

The Community Gallery of Art at the College of Lake County presents a rare collection of photographs entitled "The FSA in Illinois: Chicago as seen by the Farm Security Administration Photographers, 1939-1943." The exhibit opened on July 16, and will run through Aug. 16. This exhibition features photographs commissioned by the government during the Great Depression.

The photographs were taken by the Farm Securities Administration (FSA), a New Deal Agency, as a way to explain in pictures how it helped the nation's rural poor and other Americans in distress at the time of the Great Depression.

Approximately 80 photographs are exhibited from the 2,400 images taken of life in Illinois some 50 years ago. These photographs were among the first used to create an accurate historical record of Chicago's black population.

The traveling exhibit is provided by the Illinois Arts Council, and is organized by the Chicago Historical Society. The Community Gallery of Art, is open 8 a.m. - 9:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday. After Aug. 6, the gallery will be open 8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. For more information, call gallery curator Steve Jones at (708) 223-6601 ext. 240.

Check It Out

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

After zooming to superstar status with "Dirty Dancing," Patrick Swayze pulled poor follow throughs with his subsequent flicks, "Next of Kin" and "Roadhouse."

After fighting for the title role in "Ghost" Swayze regains his top star status with one of the better ghost stories put on film.

With the help of a more beautiful Demi Moore as his be-reaved girlfriend and Whoopie Goldberg as the medium through which Swayze's ghost helps solve his own murder, "Ghost" has the summer movie scene with two hours of good, sometimes amusing, sometimes violent, but always moving, entertainment.

This is a love story with one of the sexiest and most erotic scenes featuring Swayze's ghost being able to touch his love just once more before "taking his love with him" into the hereafter.

Goldberg, who believe it or not doesn't look too bad when she's gussied-up to draw a $4 million check out of a bogus bank account, steals the show with her perfect timing and hysterical delivery.

It's good to see Swayze in the romantic kind of part he does so sensuously and Moore never looked better, even though she practically cries her way through the picture.

We give this one five out of five stars, rating it as one of the season's best movies.

Ryan loves dancing deep in heart of 'Texas'

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

Mary Suzanne Ryan has been lucky with her summer job the past two years.

She is performing for an audience of thousands every night, doing the thing she is best at and loves the most.

She debuts by singing Anthem at Cubs game

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

She loved to sing in high school, joining all the choral groups. After graduation, she went on to Colorado Christian University in Lakewood, Colo. and is majoring in voice at present.

At a Cubs-Giants game, being played in Wrigley Field Chicago, Vicki Kowalczyk, 21, daughter of Stan and Lori Kowalczyk of Antioch, made her public singing debut

She is dancing in the musical romance that has drawn over 101,000 tourists from every state in the union and 93 different foreign countries.

"Texas," the Paul Green production, set beneath the towering cliffs of the Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Amarillo, in a big way in front of 34,000 Cubs-Giants fans as she sang the "Star Spangled Banner," to open the game.

Kowalczyk sent in a tape of her singing voice and was accepted to perform at Chicago's famous ballpark the same night that the Ill. Bell Pioneers presented a donation for research on Muscular Dystrophy.

Lori Kowalczyk is an active pioneer.

Texas, has been a top visitor attraction in the Lone Star State for the last two years.

"Mary Suzanne has loved dancing ever since she was a little girl," says her grandmother, Mrs. Frank Elston of Vernon Hills.

With aspirations towards both teaching and becoming a professional dancer, Mary Suzanne is attending the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque, and is a junior majoring in dance, choreography, etc.

This aspiring terpsichorean delight is also the niece of Mr. and Mrs. David Elston of Mundelein.

Following the successful formula of Richard Rogers' "Oklahoma," "Texas" tells the story of farmers and ranchers battling land rights and nature as the coming of a railroad brings new prosperity to the area.

Reviewers have acclaimed the colorful songs, striking choreography and the use of the latest sound and light effects in this tuncful extravaganza.

Being 'Jack of all trades' is 90's 'IN' thing to be

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

There was a time when the title, "Jack of all trades, master of none" was a disparaging one, meaning someone who did a little about a lot, but not a lot about anything, and nothing they really did well.

Grocery stores carried fresh produce, meat and packaged, frozen and canned foods, with some sundries thrown in.

A plumber was one who plumbed, a singer sang, a dancer danced and a secretary typed.

Now, everyone's trying to

Most beauty shops now specialize in jewelry and clothing, with their new little boutiques.

Shoe stores often have more accessories and clothing in stock than footwear.

And the supermarkets that are attached to super drug-stores have become mini-department stores with a smattering of everything including floral pieces, a gift shop, jewelry and an office supply store.

Remember when there were singers like Sinatra who danced a bit and dancers like Astair and Kelly who sang a bit?

Word is that any aspiring thespian has to do it all, sing well, dance well and act like Richard Burton if they are going to make the grade.

There once was the time when teachers were involved in imbedding the three "R's" into the brains of their students. Now, with working mothers and broken homes, many teachers also must be psychotherapists, substitute parents and babysitters.

When tv debuted in the late 1940s it was touted as the newest entertainment medium.

A glance at TV Guide will tell one that the television set as become a home shopping vehicle, a problem solver and also a classroom where one can learn how to be a millionaire very quickly.

With quality and high standards on the wane, it seems that there is a possibility we have sacrificed quality for quantity or maybe the competition is so great that everyone feels they must offer that little extra something.

How about doing what one does well and leaving some room for the other guy to do the same?

To quote another old adage, "to thine own self be true, and don't always try to steal your brother's thunder"

When I think about it...

But in the 1990s diversity is the name of almost any game except for the medical one, with doctors becoming more and more specialized.

There was also time when one went to the shoe store to buy shoes and the hardware store for things like nuts, bolts, pipe, screws and things.

Drugstores carried medicines, cosmetics, magazines and sometimes had a soda fountain.

get into everyone else's act in these days of DOD, Diversity On Demand.

Hardware stores are now like small department stores with some car accessories and building supplies, a dab of groceries and some home decorations tossed in. The only nuts, bolts and screws to be had must be bought by the dozen. What happens to the poor guy who only needs two screws?

Discover the Bahamas and the people

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

You've visited the monuments from the days of pirate rule. You've shopped at the straw markets. You've even caught the island show at the Drum Beat Club. But have you really experienced the Bahamas?

Unless you've had the opportunity to meet and spend time with the Bahamian people, you have not discovered the Bahamas. But how do you meet people of the friendly island nation? You can't really go knocking on doors saying I want to be your friend. The Ministry of Tourism has the answer. It's a program called "People-to-People."

It works like this. Before your trip, have your travel agent contact the Ministry of Tourism in either Nassau or Freeport, depending upon your destination. (Your agent should have forms for this.) You will be asked to supply information about yourself and your family to better match your interests to those of your Bahamian family. You'll be asked things like your age, occupation, club and church affiliations, hobbies and other interests. You will then be matched with a volunteer host family.

This is a completely informal, personal, non-regimented program. The Ministry of Tourism will arrange a meeting, and from then on it's between you and your host family. You may be invited home for a party or Bahamian meal, join in at a family gathering or be given a tour of the city. You might join them at worship or a local club meeting. Your children may compare notes on growing up in the Bahamas versus Lake Villa.

There is no charge for this service. The host family covers all the costs. A small thank you gift may be appropriate.

There is no way to put a price on the memories you take with you when you leave with a part of the real people of the Bahamas.

"Remembrances" too thin, caves in

by TOM WITOM
Lakeland Newspapers

Chicago's Wisdom Bridge Theater gets a strong performance from its cast in the world premiere of Sol Saks' "Soft Remembrance," but it's not enough to prevent the thinly structured production from caving in on itself.

The gentle comedy, set in Chicago during the early 1930s, relies too heavily on the tried and true for its theme.

Starring Malachy McCourt as Mike Banlon, a hard-drinking Irishman and Byrne Piven as Sam Green, a Jewish businessman with zero business sense, the two find they have more in common than their married children. The Catholic berates the English while his friend decries the Russian Cossacks. But both end up racing the clock, frantic to make their mark after a lifetime of underachievement.

Banlon loses himself in violin music; Green finds solace in writing Yiddish poetry.

When Erin Creighton, as the distraught young daughter lambasts her father for his drunken ways, her doleful plea hits home, briefly stealing the show.

Otherwise, there's not much going on. A scene in which Green and his wife warily eye a crucifix as if it were about to attack them is overdone. But there is genuine humor in Banlon's conversations with a statuette of St. Anthony ("I call him Tony").

Overall, however, "Soft Remembrance" has its long-suffering wives, pious clergyman and dedicated bigots—nothing one has not seen before.

Directed by Sol Saks, the play is scheduled to run through Aug. 12.

Malachy McCourt and Byrne Piven

We're now deep into summer and in need of new recipes for those outdoor barbecue buffs.

A new barbecue sparerib recipe from Kansas City and potato salad from down south with a new twist will add new zest to that barbecue agenda.

Kansas City-style spareribs

- 6 garlic cloves, crushed
- 8 to 9 pounds pork spareribs (about 3 racks)
- 2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp freshly ground pepper
- 1 cup (packed) dark brown sugar
- 3/4 cup coarse grainy mustard
- 1/3 cup cider vinegar
- 1/4 cup molasses
- 1 1/2 Tbls. dry mustard

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Rub garlic into both sides of ribs and season with salt and pepper. Arrange ribs meaty side down on a large baking sheet. Bake 1 hour, turning ribs after 20 minutes. (Ribs can be baked a day ahead. Remove to a rack and let drain and cool. Then wrap in plastic wrap and refrigerate.)

In a medium nonreactive sauce-pan, combine brown sugar, grainy mustard, vinegar, molasses, and dry mustard. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, and simmer, stirring to dissolve sugar, 5 minutes. Remove glaze from heat and let cool slightly.

Prepare a hot fire. Place prebaked ribs meaty side up on an oiled grill set 4 to 6 inches from coals. Spread one third of glaze over ribs and cook until meaty side is browned and crisp, about 5 minutes. Turn again and spread remaining glaze on top. Grill until bottom side is well browned and crisp, about 5 minutes longer. Cut into individual ribs or portions for serving. Serves 6.

Dixie-style potato salad

- 10 medium large all-purpose or "boiling" potatoes
- 1 cup chopped scallions

3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 green pepper, finely chopped
1/2 cup coarsely chopped sweet pickles
1/4 cup minced celery
2 Tbls. chopped pimento-stuffed olives
1 to 1 1/2 cups mayonnaise
salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste
Boil the potatoes in their jackets in salted water until just tender, about 30 minutes. Peel and slice or dice them. Blend in all ingredients, except the salt and pepper, and enough mayonnaise to bind the salad together. Use a wooden fork and spoon, lifting and folding the potatoes as gently as possible. Taste for seasoning and add salt or pepper if required. Turn into a large shallow bowl or platter and decorate with any of the garnishes listed. Garnish: Sliced hard-cooked eggs, dill or sweet gherkins, strips of canned pimento, sliced cucumbers, stuffed green olives, or black Italian olives.

Vanilla Chocolate Chunk

- 2 to 3 oz. semisweet chocolate
- 1 large egg
- 1 cup half-and-half

- 3/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1 Tbl. vanilla extract
- 3 cups heavy cream

Chop the chocolate into 1/4 inch pieces and chill in the refrigerator. Put the egg, half-and-half, sugar, and vanilla extract in a blender. Blend on medium speed until the mixture is smooth and sugar is dissolved. Slowly add the cream and continue blending on low speed until mixture is smooth, about 30 seconds.

Transfer the mixture to your ice cream machine and freeze according to manufacturer's instructions. When the ice cream is almost completed, add the chocolate pieces.

Makes slightly more than 1 quart.

Fish fry tops Memories is known for good food, atmosphere

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

With fish boils gaining popularity in southeastern Wisconsin and northern Illinois the last few years, Memories Museum Restaurant in Trevor, Wis. probably hosts the most atmospheric one every Friday night, from 6 to 9 p.m.

Memories has a different theme for each part of the restaurant, with the Onion River Market just outside of the main dining room windows, the perfect site for a culinary show to be truly filed down Memory Ln.

Owners Rita and Gil Meisgeier, who love to roam the shores of Lake Michigan and Lake Superior themselves, have set the perfect scene starting with an ancient fishing boat, marine-lit wharf posts, a weathered fishing shanty and an old outhouse that serves as the firewood storage area.

Meisgeier himself don's a sailor's cap and starts the fire in the large brick fire pit.

Customers often enjoy the warmth and camaraderie as they surround the pit and watch the fiery show.

The fish boil is made with cold water whitefish filets, new red potatoes and sweet Mexican onions.

For the seafood lover, this hearty meal, served with salty rye bread, homemade cole slaw and Rita's cherry pie turns out to be a memorable one.

Other rooms in the restaurant offer varied antique atmospheres that include a 1938 Mack fire truck named Bertha.

Memories is located a half mile east of Antioch on Rte. 83. Luncheon is served every day from 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.; dinner starts at 4 and runs to 10:30 p.m.

Memories serves breakfast on Saturdays and Sundays, from 7 a.m. to noon.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Mystical experiences are likely for those so inclined. You're ready to stand pat on a career idea, but still you'll profit from advice. Deal with only reputable types in business. Control extravagant tendencies. Partners may disagree on a matter of taste.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Pay more attention to the feelings of a close tie; don't be cavalier. Bring a work project to completion now. Though inspired now, you may be inconsiderate of co-workers in your detachment. Quibbling could interfere with emotional harmony after dark.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Avoid risking money in games of chance. Working overtime on a job project at home will bring you dividends at a later date. A romantic interest may be taking up much of your time now, but love doesn't give you a just excuse to ignore family.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Some awkwardness may exist in a social situation. Don't be penny wise and pound foolish when shopping. Trust in quality. The strength of your beliefs is admirable, but you should be less critical. In financial matters, your judgment could be fuzzy.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A too casual manner works against you career-wise. Don't talk too much about a financial move. Learn to keep your own secrets. You'll have no patience with superficial types now. Stick with those whose loyalty you can count on today. Privacy brings insights.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Too much company may make you feel ill at ease now. A higher-up may confide in you. Behind-the-scenes moves are favored. Some career successes are likely, but you shouldn't combine business and pleasure. Travel plans are subject to revision.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Business success is likely, but don't rest on your laurels. Expand your horizons. Do more than what is expected of you. You'll receive some profitable business advice. Loved ones may want to revisit an old familiar haunt. Make plans now!

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your powers of concentration improve. It will be a busy and productive work week. You may have judged a co-worker prematurely. Loved ones should take a break from other concerns and spend more time with each other. Evening favors going out for fun.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) After some initial difficulties, it's smooth sailing regarding a work project. Real estate and family decisions are accented. Home entertainments are favored. Make plans for weekend travel. Hobbies, sports and romance are your happy options.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Put your house in order. Buy essential goods and keep your eyes open for a new possession that will enhance your home's beauty. Catch up on neglected correspondence. Serious intellectual work is favored. Make important calls now.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You may buy a gift for a shut-in. A bouquet of flowers or some other token of affection would be greatly appreciated. Foster good will. You'll have time now to fulfill a social obligation and also to get together with friends of similar interests. Circulate!

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Though it's not the time for direct action regarding a career matter, you can safely pull some strings to aid your cause. If planning a pleasure trip, make it long enough so that you'll have time to visit more than one set of friends afar.

Vikes rally, win

Coleman's TD catches make it worth the wait

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Lake County Vikings fans waited an hour for the first game of the exhibition season to begin Sunday against the Chicago Chargers.

But once the contest began, the Vikings' passing attack made the contest more than worth the wait Sunday in Libertyville. Led by quarterbacks Sam Toia and Elmer Smith, the team chalked up almost 190 yards in passing in a 16-13 come-from-behind win.

Lake County, in its second semi-pro season, hosts the Chicago Hurricanes on Sunday, July 29 at 1 p.m. at Libertyville's Butler Lake Park. The regular season opener is at Gary Aug. 18.

North Chicago High graduate Rodney Coleman caught two touchdown passes, one for 25 yards and another for three to spark the attack. Chris Fridrick added a field goal and an extra point.

"We have a lot of good receivers. I think it will come around," Toia, who also serves as offensive coordinator, said.

"Rod always has been a consistent threat," Lake County Coach Al Clark said of last year's all-star. Coleman's two catches were good for 27 yards.

Toia opened the game with a 53-yard completion and the first drive of the season included catches for seven and 17 yards. The drive faltered and the first quarter ended with a scoreless tie.

The Vikings were driving in the second quarter and scored for the first time in 1990 when Fridrick booted a 44-yard field goal which just cleared the goal post.

That 3-0 lead looked like it would hold up but the Chargers struck back in the second half thanks to some strong defense. An interception led to a 72 yard pass from quarterback Dave Ganir to Sylvester Bluer with 7:36 left in the third. That combination would work again for the second TD.

But in between, the Vikes got the lead back on the short three-yard toss from Smith to Coleman. Coleman was penalized for spiking the ball, but the hometown Vikings did not seem to mind.

"We still have some room for improvement," Clark said.

While the passing attack shined, the running game had negative yards for most of the first half. Clark said many running backs were used.

He had praise for the bigger-than-last year's offensive line, which is under the direction of assistant coach Dennis Presser of Wadsworth.

Vikings notebook: the team is under the sponsorship again this year of Poor Richard's Pub in Gurnee...Clark, a Gurnee resident, is assisted on the sidelines this year by his son, J.D. A Carmel High School student, the younger Clark keeps statistics for the team...Upcoming exhibition games: Aug. 5, Chicago Panthers at Libertyville, 1 p.m.; Aug. 13, Palos-Orland Park Force, site to be determined...The initial regular season games: Aug. 25 at Tinley Park; Sept. 9 at home at Mundelein High, Milwaukee Express...Co-owners for the team are Sharon Nelson, Rick Starosta and Mike Christian.

Listen up!

Lake County Vikings Coach Al Clark gives his team instructions before the Vikings take the field for exhibition opener against Chicago Chargers. Lake County rallied to win 16-13. Vikings host Chicago Hurricane at Butler Lake Park in Libertyville July 29. Kickoff is set for 1 p.m.

Former Blue Devils win title in mudvolleyball IV

Two days of slopping, rinsing and diving in the lake concluded Sunday as Libertyville Park and Recreation Dept. completed its two days of Mud Bowl IV.

Teams with such names as Muddy for Nothing, Captain Slime and the Ozzers, Mud Hogs, New Kids in the Mud and more than 200 spikers competed.

On Sunday afternoon, when the mud settled, Teri's Pigs, a team consisting of former Warren Twp. High School volleyball players, came away with the first-place team trophy.

"It's a lot of passing over," captain Teri

Huntington said. "Each time it goes over, a girl has to hit it."

Jon Wilmot said the fun part of mudvolleyball, where the mud can reach ankle deep is the diving for the balls. Ropes surround the court at Butler Lake Park to mark the out-of-bounds.

The Blue Devils turned Mud Devils won the title in three games over Main Squeeze. Other team members included former Blue Devil Jennifer Wilmot and Jenny Marker, Matt Wasmer and CLC baseball player Carl Wismer.

In all, some 33 teams competed for the titles, won on Saturday by the Good, Bad and Muddy team of Libertyville captained by Gary Czosek.

Judy Wakeman, Libertyville recreation supervisor, said when the tournament started four years ago, there were four teams competing on one court. Now it takes 16 truckloads of mud which is trucked into Libertyville by Van's Enterprises, a co-sponsor. Lakeland Newspapers also sponsored the event.

Every team played three games on their court. The top two teams from that court then advanced to a single elimination playoff.

Rules include that six person teams must include two females, boundary calls are made by the official and substitutions are allowed by rotating one spot or by notifying an official. Mud slinging is not allowed and games were stopped because of "Mud in your eye".

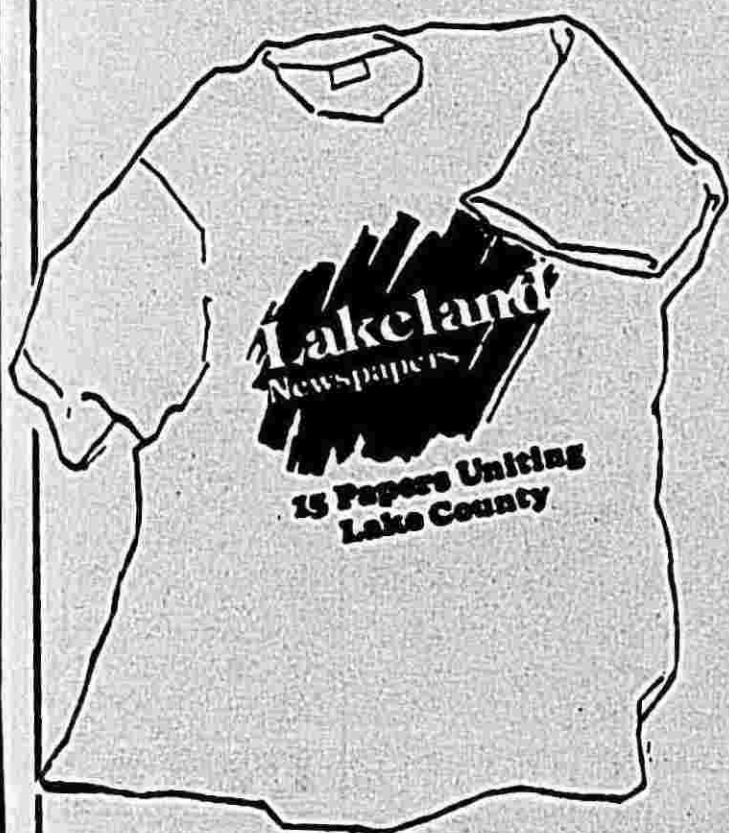

The two two teams battled it out for t-shirts, trophies and hats. The park and recreation staff provided shampoo and an area to shower off.

Mud Bowl like events are also held in Wauconda and Winthrop Harbor each year.

Round Lake Colts claim title, head to Rockford

For six years, Glenn Jewell watched as the Round Lake Colt baseball program went through its ups and downs in the league of 15-year-olds.

Then last spring, Jewell found out he would be taking over the program in his first year as manager. "I knew I had a lot of talent, but I did not expect to go 21-1," Jewell said.

Jewell, a Round Lake Beach Police officer and Round Lake High graduate, and his forces will be in Rockford this week for the Colt League-Post Season tournament.

In addition to the 21 wins in Colt league play, the team finished second in a tournament in La Crosse, Wis. The Round Lake team finished second in a Cedar Rapids, Iowa tourney.

Jay Center was the ace of the staff, chalking up 15 wins in 16 decisions. Craig Cullom was 5-0 and Nathan Roberts was 3-0. Joe Vavrik was 6-2. All played for Round Lake High except Roberts, a Grayslake High pitcher.

Center fielder Clint Rodriguez, left fielder Adam Tesch and Roberts were the leading hitters while right fielder Aaron Strain was also steady with the bat and glove.

Waukegan finished second in the Colt league.

Jewell is a former football player and basketball player for the Panthers.

Other teams competing from Lake County were Lake Villa, Gurnee, Avon and Great Lakes.

World Series bound

Ask 5-lane Rte. 45

MUNDELEIN—Widening of Rte. 45 to five lanes between Rte. 137 (Peterson Rd.) on the north and Rte. 176 (Maple St.-Park Ave) on the south to accommodate increased traffic from the new Motorola Inc. plant at Winchester Rd. is being requested by the village board. It approved a resolution to that effect this week asking the Illinois Dept. of Transportation to upgrade its three-lane plans in the immediate vicinity of the new plant to five lanes.

Petition denied

ROUND LAKE—Petitions seeking a referendum to decide a $2,085,000 bond issue have fallen before a ruling of the specially appointed electoral board of Round Lake Area School Dist. 116. The school board of Dist. 116 had printed a public notice of intent to issue the bonds to cover the expense of paying teacher's salaries for the previous year. Bob Boness, president of the school district, circulated petitions calling for a referendum vote of the bond issue, and Ila Bauer, another district resident and department head in the school district, filed an objection to the petition as presented. The objection having been upheld, Boness plans to take the matter to the Lake County Circuit Court for further ruling.

Lettered argument

GRAYSLAKE—Grayslake Mayor Marvin Smith and Lake County Board Chairman Norm Geary are waging a battle of words through published letters. The argument between the two seems to center around land condemnation by the Forest Preserve of properties within Grayslake village boundaries. The village and the Forest Preserve have been arguing over various properties for several months. The Forest Preserve is looking into the price paid by IDOT (Illinois Dept. of Transportation) for Grayslake property, to be used for new highway construction. Grayslake has blocked the Forest Preserve's acquisition of property adjacent to previously acquired Forest Preserve property.

Queens change

VERNON HILLS—Dreams that were supposed to come true turned into nightmares at this year's Little Miss and Miss Vernon Hills pageant due to errors in tabulations. Tana Higman, who was named Miss Vernon Hills at the pageant, was forced to return her crown after a reign of less than 24 hours. Jennifer Capron received the queen's crown.

School says thanks
for Motorola taxes

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Libertyville Elementary School Dist. 70 has given a big "thank you" to the Libertyville village board.

It is in the form of an official resolution "recognizing the Libertyville mayor and board of trustees" for approving the new Motorola Inc. facility at Rte. 45 and Winchester Rd.

They were commended for enhancing the tax base of the financially-strapped school district by the action. The grade school district will receive $590,000 annually when the $7.5 million plant becomes operational in two years.

Libertyville High School will not benefit. The Motorola property is in the Mundelein High School Dist., which will gain an estimated $435,000 annually in new taxes.

"It has come to the attention of Dist. 70 that the office of the mayor extended much time and negotiation effort to effect a compromise allowing the Motorola facility to proceed," the resolution said.

"The school district was informed that one of the overriding considerations in deliberations was the financial well being of the grade school district," it continued.

"...the resulting increased tax base in the school district will serve the children of Libertyville for decades," it concluded.

Showing off trophy

Members of the Teri's Pigs mudvolleyball team show off their trophy after Sunday's tournament at Butler Lake Park in Libertyville. More than 30 teams and 200 players participated in two-day event conducted by Libertyville Park and Recreation Dept. Team members were: Carl Wismer, Teri Huntington, Jennifer Wilmot, Jenny Marker, Jon Wilmot and Matt Wasmer.

Big vote on Friday

WAUKEGAN—A key vote by the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. could come on Friday, July 27. Commissioners will again consider purchasing a designated 475 acres of the Cuneo Estate located between Libertyville and Vernon Hills. To avert such action, representatives of the estate, Vernon Hills in which it is located and Libertyville Twp. have agreed to the purchase of 62 acres by the township open space program for $70,000 an acre. As part of the agreement, the forest board must agree to stop further attempts to acquire the property.

Partington starts

GREAT LAKES—Great Lakes Naval Training Center welcomed a new commander Wednesday. Rear Admiral James Partington began his duties as commander, taking over from Rear Admiral John Calhoun during afternoon ceremony at Ross Field. The Naval Training Center at Great Lakes is comprised of eight commands, including the largest Recruit Training Command and the Navy's largest Service School Command. Other component commands of the Naval Training Center include the Naval Training Station, Personnel Support Training Station, the Naval Hospital and Construction Battalion 401.

School says thanks

LIBERTYVILLE—A great big "thank you" was given the Libertyville village board this week by the Libertyville Elementary School district. It was an official resolution commending the mayor and village board for its deliberations and vote that will bring a $7.5-million Motorola plant to the community. The financially-strapped school district will receive $590,000 each year in new taxes when the plant becomes operational in two years.

Testing the water

GRAYSLAKE—Grayslake Park Dist. officials are in the process of testing the waters to see if they should attempt to build a pool on the 43 acres in Grayslake's Central Park. So far, 11 people have been selected to serve on the pool committee, but the park district is looking for more citizen volunteers willing to donate their time and energy to the project.

Police awarded

LINDENHURST—The Lindenhurst Police Dept. has been awarded the AAA Pedestrian Safety Citation for 11 consecutive years without a pedestrian fatality. The village was only one of 25 across the state to receive this award, given by the American Automobile Association and the Illinois Secretary of State's office.

Subdivision OK

GURNEE—The Village of Gurnee has given its consent to Country Meadows Subdivision. The village board on Monday authorized Mayor Dick Welton to sign an agreement for annexation of the 14.7-acre subdivision. The subdivision is located on the north side of Gages Lake Rd. and west of Hickory Haven subdivision.

OK recycling

NEWPORT TWP.—Newport Twp. will be joining the recycling age. The Newport Twp. Board approved by a 4-1 vote to have a mandatory recycling program in the unincorporated areas of the township. The program is expected to begin in September. Jensen Disposal will be the lone hauler for the curbside program. Jensen is also the firm which is handling the Village of Wadsworth's program.

Forest preserve to acquire acreage in Antioch Twp.

by DENISE ANN STRZALKA
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Village Board expressed dismay, Monday night, regarding the purchase of 45 acres of wetlands within Antioch Twp. by the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.

Village trustees, the majority being against the Forest Preserve's acquisition, were outraged that the board was not notified that such an acquisition was being discussed. The board would of liked to have sent a representative to the Land Acquisition Committee meeting to speak on behalf of the village.

"I'm afraid the Forest Preserve will get a foothold on our land in Antioch and will become a dictator on our land usage," said Trustee Marilyn Shineflug.

Suzie Schmidt, Lake County board member and representative of the land acquisition committee, said, "The property wasn't even being discussed. The owner of the property came to us and asked the committee to consider purchasing the land, because he had 43 acres of unbuildable wetlands."

Village Atty. Kenneth Clark had his reservations on why the Forest Preserve Dist. would want to purchase the land if it is unbuildable.

Schmidt said, "It is my understanding that the land will be left as a natural wetland and would be used for drainage for Loon Lake."

Trustee Mabel Lou Weber questioned the Forest Preserve's intent regarding acquisition of adjacent land.

The board was reassured by Schmidt that the Land Acquisition Committee had not been contemplating acquiring land within the Antioch area.

"If a person goes to Forest Preserve Dist. and asks them to purchase land, we have no say so. You can't tell him you can't do that. The Land Acquisition Committee has a willing seller with a negotiable price," said Trustee Ed Kozirowski.

The Forest Preserve will derive at its decision regarding the acquisition of the slough land on Friday (July 27). The village board will be sending representative to the meeting to speak on the village's behalf. "We want adequate control of where the forest preserves are," said Shineflug.

Stormwater meeting July 30

An orientation meeting outlining the responsibilities and management duties of the Lake County Stormwater Management Planning Committee's (SMPC) four Watershed Management Boards has been scheduled for Monday, July 30.

The meeting, which begins at 7 p.m., will be held in Room C003 of the College of Lake County, Grayslake Campus, 19351 W. Washington St.

The meeting represents one of the first steps toward implementation of Lake County's Comprehensive Stormwater Management Plan, which was formally adopted by the Lake County Board in June. The organizational structure of the plan calls for the establishment of Watershed Management Boards to advise the Stormwater Management Planning Committee on how the program should be applied in each of the county's four watersheds.

For more information contact Mick Hans, SMPC Public Information coordinator at 18 N. County St., Room A-803, Waukegan, or phone (708)360-6350.

TAILOR'S BUNIONS

A Tailor's Bunion is a small bunion on the outside of the foot. This condition is also called a bunionette. Obviously, a bunionette is a small bunion in contrast to the bunion which we find involving the joint behind the big toe.

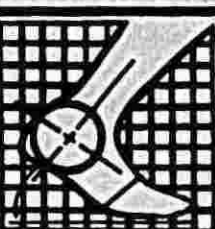

There are a few conditions which may cause the bump in this area: 1) an overgrowth or swelling of soft tissue covering this joint (bursitis); 2) a congenitally (at birth) wide head of the 5th metatarsal bone (just behind the little toe); 3) an actual bowing or splaying of the 5th metatarsal bone. If the condition is mild, treatment revolves around relieving the discomfort by 1) fitting the shoes carefully to accommodate the foot; 2) orthotic therapy (custom made arch supports); or 3) surgical intervention in which the enlarged bone or bowing deformity of the metatarsal is corrected.

If you are suffering from painful corns and calluses, please contact Dr. Lee M. Tisa for a NO COST CONSULTATION to discuss this condition and those treatment options that are available to you.

How to cope with a finicky eater

When the dinner table becomes a battlefield, it may help to step back and get a fresh perspective on what feeding a child really entails.

"It is a parent's responsibility to choose and serve nutritious food. Period," said Becky Westover, a certified home economist with Dairy Council of Wisconsin. "Many parents try to take their responsibility further and control what and how much the child eats."

"However, it is the child's responsibility," says Westover, "to determine what he eats and how much."

Many parents worry that if they don't control what their child eats, he won't get the food he needs to grow and be healthy. Children, however, have a built-in ability to determine how much they need to eat. If a parent overrides this ability, the child will never learn to be aware of his own hunger.

"The ability to interpret your own hunger is really the skill that needs to be taught at the dinner table," said Westover. "When parental control overrides the child's own hunger signals, children often develop weight problems later in life."

Forcing a child to clean his plate is a common example of a parent overstepping his responsibility. Using dessert as a reward or punishment is another example.

"It's not really what you say," said Westover, "it's how you say it. Parents can gently urge children to try new foods. But if it becomes too forceful, the child feels that he has to rebel."

Rebellion leads to struggles between parents and children. The child's eating suffers, the parents' nerves suffer, and a cycle of destructive behavior ensues.

To break this cycle, Westover recommends that parents first sit down and determine their own attitudes about food. Do you try to control or manipulate your child with food? Think about rules your parents made for mealtimes and how you felt about them. Do you follow the same pattern with your children?

"Most adults have their own hang-ups about eating and play them out in the way they feed their children," said Westover.

Next, seek knowledge on eating problems and how to deal with them. Westover recommends the book, "How to Get Your Kid to Eat...But Not Too Much," by Ellyn Satter, a registered dietician. The book illustrates its key points with case studies of eating problems and how the author handled them.

After learning about eating, practice handling the child correctly. Westover recommends working at it for a period of one week. During the week, attempt to structure mealtime as a pleasant time. Make no attempt to control the child's part of meal responsibility.

Observe the effect this has on the child's eating behavior.

"The child will develop a sense of control over his eating," said Westover. "He will learn to trust that he will get what he wants to eat, no more and no less. Eventually mealtimes will become more pleasant, and the child will develop better eating habits."

Drivers to take strike vote

Drivers for the National School Bus Service Inc. of Mundelein are preparing to take a strike vote Monday, Aug. 6, three weeks before they are to begin transporting students for the new school year.

Affected are 350 drivers. They transport students in private and public schools in Cook and Lake counties, including schools in Mundelein, Libertyville, Vernon Hills, Lincolnshire, Prairie View, Buffalo Grove, Diamond Lake, Deerfield and the Special Education Dist. of Lake County.

Drivers of the Mundelein-based company voted 153-3 in May not to return to work without a new contract. Negotiations are now underway to resolve the differences.

The company made an initial offer of $7.10 per hour without insurance, an offer the union terms unacceptable.

The union says it is far apart in negotiations.

The starting wage has been $6.80 per hour. No health insurance, pension plan or disability insurance is offered because the employees are considered part time. They put in between four and six hours a day.

All school bus companies have difficulty attracting qualified drivers. No only must they find people willing to work in early morning and late afternoon, they must be trained on a bus and pass a state licensing exam and a physical.

The union says drivers do not have the basic benefits and guarantees of other unionized workers. Providing these would drive up the cost of school bus contracts, which would end up being paid by taxpayers. Using part-time help enables school bus companies to provide a necessary service at a lower price.

The Aug. 6 meeting at Mundelein High School is timed to give the company the required 14-day strike notice in event the union votes to take that action.

Class plans reunion

Mundelein High School's Class of 1970 will be holding its 20-Year Reunion at 6:30 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 18, at Meadows 21, 1760 North Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville.

For more information call (708)397-0010 or write Reunions, A Class Organization, Inc., 2155 Stonington Ave., Suite 108, Hoffman Estates, IL 60195.
